

Edgar Law Firm:

10 Years of Service and Commitment to Clients

A desire to serve clients more efficiently and effectively prompted John M. Edgar and sons John F. and David W. Edgar to start their firm in 2002. Ten years later, that mission has contributed to the firm's success and still drives its attorneys as they strive to provide clients with the responsive, personal service they deserve.

With this commitment to clients, the firm's seven attorneys have successfully prosecuted numerous cases in commercial and consumer litigation, recovering hundreds of millions of dollars for clients. They have used their courtroom skills and legal expertise in hundreds of lawsuits. At Edgar Law Firm, the attorneys consider clients business partners and are committed to prosecuting cases zealously and efficiently.

That efficiency helped the firm weather the country's economic downturn during the past several years and better serve its clients. With the client's best interest foremost, attorneys seek ways to successfully resolve cases in the most cost-effective manner for clients. The firm's attorneys have more than 100 years of trial experience combined and call on their experience from a variety of practices.

Although the firm's mission has not changed in the past 10 years, its reach has. Many clients are in Kansas City, but as the firm's reputation has grown, demand for its services has expanded beyond the region. It has an office in Denver and handles cases in numerous states, including California, New York, Illinois, Ohio and Texas. Many of these cases come from referrals from past clients and from the reputation the attorneys have built in their areas of expertise.

Each attorney has strong ties to the Kansas City area and finds ways to give back. Managing Partner John M. Edgar exemplifies the firm's civic commitment. He has held numerous leadership positions in the area, such as chairman of the Economic Development Corp. of Kansas City, founding co-chairman of the Kansas City Area Life Sciences Institute and board member for the Kansas City Symphony.

Relocating to the Blossom House on Quality Hill was another way the firm chose to support economic development in Kansas City. Blossom House was built in 1888. The firm relocated to the restored building in 2007.

Success at Edgar Law Firm is not defined by the number of attorneys it has on staff. The firm does not aspire to persistently add to its size or staff during the next 10 years. The goal is to continue to meet clients' needs in the most effective and efficient way.

"We believe our moderate size is good for us and for our clients," says John F. Edgar, a founding partner. "We can take the time to focus on each client. And we have a lot of camaraderie among our staff. We enjoy working together to help our clients, which really benefits the clients in the end."
